News of the Yale Club of Vermont

Issue # 7, August, 2021

Summer Gathering of the Yale Club of Vermont. Thanks again to our hosts Cilla and Russell Leavitt for making their Sky Acres event facility available to us. Here's a short video from the event.

The Book Club will be meeting at 7-8:30 pm on September 15 to discuss A Gentleman in Moscow by Yale author Amor Towles.

Elaine Gustafson will facilitate. Please register by September 10. Zoom link will come directly from YAA.

John Reid has volunteered to be our liaison for the Yale/Dartmouth football game on October 9. We're hoping to coordinate our efforts with the Yale Club of New Hampshire. Details to come.

Club member Bachar Sawami writes "I am happy to announce that my new concise hardcover book has been published. It is called SmileRise: A very short poem, and it consists primarily of an adventurous Prologue, describing the events, people and circumstances (primarily in Vermont) that inspired the poem SmileRise, in addition to the poem itself. More information is available at the website or from me directly: bachar@samawi.net."

Enjoy the waning days of summer. We all know what happens next. Visit our website: yaleclubvermont.org
